

ABSTRACT

Cosmetics containing one or more components selected from lipids contained in the stratum corneum and analogs
5 thereof, and terpene components other than menthol. The cosmetics are highly efficacious in ameliorating chapped skin and roughened skin and have effects of improving skin qualities such as dry skin or sensitive skin.